Clean workspace

The palette is built on institutional trust. Deep Navy evokes judicial authority and legal binders, used for headers and navigation. Professional Blue signals calm reliability for interactive elements. Accent Gold references the scales of justice, reserved for active states and priority indicators. Supporting neutrals soften contrast and create a modern, breathable workspace without visual fatigue.

Display XL	Poppins Light 64px	Hero sections, landing pages
Headline LG	Poppins Regular 40px	Page titles, section headers
Headline MD	Poppins Medium 24px	Card titles, sub-sections
Body MD	Poppins Regular 16px	Paragraphs, descriptions
Label SM	Poppins SemiBold 12px	Tags, metadata, uppercase labels

Poppins is used exclusively for its geometric clarity and modern professionalism. Hierarchy is achieved through weight and letter-spacing rather than font variety. Uppercase labels with generous tracking (10-15%) reinforce legal precision and formality. A single typeface ensures consistency across all UI contexts while remaining highly legible at small sizes for data-dense interfaces.

Law Firm Management System

Max Container Width	1440px	Prevents content sprawl on ultrawide monitors; keeps reading lines under 80 characters for comfort.
Desktop Margins	64px	Generous outer margins frame content like a legal document, reinforcing structure and focus.
Mobile Margins	16px	Tight but sufficient margins preserve usable space on small screens without crowding.
Gutter Width	24px	Standard gutter ensures columns remain visually distinct without wasting horizontal space.
Section Gap	120px	Large vertical rhythm separates content blocks clearly, mimicking the whitespace of legal briefs.
Min Label Size	12px / SemiBold	Ensures metadata and tags remain legible even at the smallest scale, critical for data-dense views.

These constraints ensure the interface scales predictably across devices while maintaining the structured, document-like feel expected in legal software. Fixed maximums prevent layout drift on large screens; generous spacing creates a calm, organized environment that reduces cognitive load during complex case management tasks.
